Key Personnel Of Glade Sugar

PETE MCINTYRE, JR.
Agriculture Division Manager
Pete McIntyre, Jr., Agriculture Division Manager, is a graduate of Auburn, in his native state.

Pete's first work in Florida was at the Brown Farm in 1917. Mr. McIntyre has seen service at the Everglades Experiment Station, in sugar. He was Dr. B. A. Bourne right hand man with the U. S. Sugar at Clewiston for years before he went with Okechobee.

Pete's field work with Okechobee rounded his experience preparatory for his job with the Glades Sugar House. His Assistant Joe Cato came with him from Okechobee to make a team for harvesting and hauling to the Sugar House some 900,000 tons of cane this season.

Mrs. McIntyre and one son, wait for Pete each night at their home in Clewiston.

MAURICE FLETCHER Purchasing Agent

Maurice Fletcher, responsible for spending millions, as Purchasing Agent is a product of the scrub palmetto and lands of Okechobee and the University of Florida. A hitch as a school teacher, including service at Pahokee High, was followed by his entrance into the sugar business in 1945, with duties similar to his present ones.

Mrs. Fletcher and three children live in Clewiston and are accustomed to "looking for Daddy" when they see him because of his irregular hours in supplying the needs of the Sugar House.

GUILLERMO ALEMAN Chief Fabricator

Mr. Aleman is a graduate of the University of Havana and of the Cienfuegos Sugar Technological School in his native Cienfuegos, Cuba.

His professional experience includes service as Sugar Chemist and Fabrication Superintendent at Francisco and Elia, sugar mills operated by Cienfuegos, Rionda in Camaguey, Cuba.

Mr. Aleman strives for low moisture and ash content of sugar at Glades Sugar House, and has been most successful to date.

Tickets On Sale For Shrine Game

Don Aspey, has taken over the local sale of tickets to the Shrine Game in the Orange Bowl, and will be pleased to reserve you tickets by phone, or swap them for the "dodger-me".

The late Al Kirchman has for years been responsible for disposing of several hundred tickets to this game, the proceeds of which went to crippled children's work.

You may call Don at Belle Glade Machine Works - 8-2290, or at his home 8-2245.

See a real game and help the Crippled Children!

Extension Of Sewerage System Vote Asked By City Commission January 8

Belle Glade's City Commission is asking the voters in the City to re-assure them that it's okay to go ahead with borrowing about $1,400,000 with which to extend the sewerage, AND to 90 percent of the City extend the intake water line further into the Lake, for the present water works.

A definite point has not been determined at which the intake will be placed, as the point where the water is less disturbed by flood waters, and high winds. Ties have been going on for more than a year, and the engineers are about ready to recommend the most advantageous point.

Waters in the canal from which the water is taken at present are affected immediately by flood waters, and high winds. Ties have been going on for more than a year, and the engineers are about ready to recommend the most advantageous point.

It appears that the present installation for sewerage disposal includes a treatment plant that is not called on to operate at more than 20 percent capacity.

Engineers tell us that we need a main gravity line (a collecting line, so to speak), into which new areas could be joined as desired.

We have a main line station

Hospital's Fiscal Condition Up More Profit-More Cash Money

The two-month period in the current fiscal year of the Glades General Hospital shows a 35 percent increase in patient days over the same period of last year with 526 patient days against 470 for last year.

The average daily patient load for this year is 75 percent against 64 percent; the total patient days are 2,682 against 1,987.

Total expenses for this period this year are 10,388 for an increase of only 19 percent, and bringing the total to $85,681.

The earned income is $6,089 more than last year's $50,257, and there's $121,588 in net assets available.

Cash on hand this year is $30,802, as against $7,666 for the same period last year.

Nursing service raised 7 percent to a total of $17,866 for this year; plant operation went up 5 percent to $4,867.

X-ray and lab expenses went up 11 and 20 percent respectively, with an increase in income.

Report of Manager Saunders indicates that operating expenses have not risen percentage-wise with the increase of patient days.

Patient days have increased per patient about twice as much as last year.

In addition to proving that more customers leave more net money in the till, the report shows that operation expenses are controlled.

The bond house representative also stated that his plan is to pay off the present indebtedness of the water and sewer systems and to convert all present bond issues into bonds at a lower rate of interest 3 5/8 to 3 7/8 percent - the present bonds carry to 4-4 1/2 and 5 percent interest.

It was brought out at the Tuesday night meeting that a grant of $77,000 from our dear Uncle is available, if the work is begun in the near future.

The City Commission is a bit uncertain as to whether or not the public still wants more sewerage - the public has already voted for sewerage favorably - at the present monthly rate of $3.50 per average house hold.

Coffee-break conversation and the natural aversion to debt, plus the popular gripe against taxes, has disturbed some of the City Commission.

They want another pat on the back with a "Go to it, boys, we're with you."

Taxes are deductible, and we might as well get some local benefit from taxes, for the Give-Away boys in Washington are "Having a Ball."

So, get ready to say, "I'm ready, or is you ain't," on January 8th.

Bank Meeting Called Jan. 3rd At The Armory

The Organization Committee announces that a meeting of all subscribers to a new Glades Bank is called for January 3rd, 8 p. m. at the Belle Glade Armory.

A building Committee composed of C. A. Thompson, E. A. McCabe and Harold Rabin has been appointed by the committee.

The total subscription of $746,050 by 126 persons may be added by several that were received late.

Employees Give To Needy Rather Than Themselves

Bert Ward, chairman for the Jaycee Christmas party for children, has found a group of employees who have the true spirit of Christmas.

While making his rounds to various places of business in the city, Bert reported that Holsum Bakery has the proper idea.

It seems that every Christmas each employee draws a name and exchanges gifts as so many other business do. However this year has been a change.

Instead of giving to one another these people are using the same money that would be spent on gifts for themselves to buy cookies and giving them to the local Jaycees to give to the migrant children at their party.

As Bert says "Now this is the true Christmas spirit."

Along with Holsum bakers, we have Alfar Dairies, the Experiment Station, Sealtest Dairies, Senior Chamber of Commerce, and the Coca-Cola Co., all giving to this worthy cause. Without anyone of these fine people we would find it much harder to give the kids the kind of party we would like to give them."

The Jaycees have spent long hard hours in helping to provide Belle Glade with the Christmas spirit. Starting with bringing Santa Claus to town, providing the kind of party we would like to give them, right down to the Xmas party. Many Jaycees have spent many working hours. This the Jaycees enjoy doing or else they wouldn't be Jaycees.

There is still time for others to join and help make this one of the biggest Christmas parties for the migrant children ever. Call Bert Ward 996-4145 or Jim Ghioia at 998-6058.

Services Friday For Mrs. Friend

Lively Appointed To Hospital Board

E. M. Lively has been appointed to the Board of the Glades General Hospital Board to replace Bob Lanier who resigned.

Chairman Close said, "We welcome Mr. Lively with his banking and general business experience to the Board. He will be particularly valuable in the construction program now under way."

Xmas Closing At City Hall

Acting City Manager Frank Anderson informs us that the City Hall offices will close on Monday the 24th at noon and to reopen on Wednesday morning the 26th.

The same schedule will be followed for New Year's - closing on Monday noon and opening on Wednesday.

Liquor Distributors Feel Beverage Laws

There's a law that provides that you MUST pay the liquor distributor.

There's also a law that doesn't allow them to sell to unlicensed places, and four PB County places have felt the enforcement of that law.

The action was taken in Tallahassee.

Stiletto-Like Icicles Wound The Glades

low temperatures have slowed the growth, burned the tips and, done harm to the potential quality of growing Glades vegetables, with less harm to those crops growing against the Lake, and on the Islands inside the Lake.

Resistance of variety, forced and the extent of the damage. "While it's impractical to say just what the overall damage to the crop of grinding mills to a very heartening low."

The variety is most fields is one developed in the U. S. Sugar laboratories through the work of Dr. Bourn and associates and was chosen in part because of its history of resistance to cold. Cold lands were and are being harvested the earliest part of the season, and consequently a good deal of the crop has been gathered in before the whitewind visit of low temperatures.

U. S. Sugar had harvested approximately one third of its crop, predominantly in the so-called cold lands. Of the balance, Mr. Boy, Vice-President, informs us that they do not expect to lose over 5 to 10 percent of the cane. A great deal of the balance is on "warm" land or on the less cold acreage.

Okechobee has about 300,000 tons with terminal buds advanced, and is grinding to capacity in an effort to get around any damage by topping. They had brought in around 200,000 tons before the freeze. Cool and cloudy weather will make the close grinding less hazardous. They are not topping any cane as of Wednesday.

The Co-op 51 farmers did not begin as early as U. S. Sugar, but had been cutting in the coldest known spots before the freeze. Pete McIntyre is busy taking the toll of conditions in other outside lands to determine the acreage most affected.

Two other mills with a majority of their cane away from the Lake are not scheduled to begin harvest for some time, and weather is the big guess when anticipating the total harvest.

A total of near 90,000 acres of cane with definite information as above indicate that from 5 to 18 percent overall loss is probable.

Yeastable crops killed outright, damaged as to quantity and quality by the cold weather. Do not bear a major relation to the total season's production quantitatively nor dollar-wise.

"The season is before us," says one farmer - "it depends on the weather, the yield and the market - we'll hit 'em hard and home."

Many cattlemen whose pastures were not mowed low still have more grass poking up's head toward the sun. Close cropped and low-mowed pastures are visible. Those with winter grasses growing are fortunate and will not have to buy packed feed.

Mr. H. Halford

Last week's HERALD reported that Mr. Howard Halford was involved in an accident with Louis Lowery, and that Luther Lloyd Kennedy bumped the bridge.

That is a mistake and apologies are due Mr. Halford - he didn't get in Lowery's car, as reported, we now find out. The bridge on the west side of the north approach did get in HIS way, but survived.

Mr. Halford is charged by the police with DWI and causing an accident by speeding.

The DWI means Driving While Intoxicated and apparently the police think his speed had something to do with his banging the bridge.

The Herald's interpretation of the police register plus verbal information caused the mixup, for which we are sorry.

Community Enjoys Christmas Cantata

The Cantata "Night of Miracles" given at the Methodist Church on Sunday night, December 16, was well attended. This was a community project and was directed by Rev. Harold Williams of the Baptist Church. After the cantata, refreshments were served in the educational building.

Inventory Time

Very shortly many firms will conduct an inventory. The business world quickly recognizes its value. Likewise it is time for a spiritual inventory to determine how this year has been used for God. Paul reminds: "Examine yourselves whether ye be in the Faith; prove your own selves." (II Corinthians 13:5) and Jesus reminds: "But seek ye first the Kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you." (Matthew 6:33).

The Belle Glade Church of Christ is willing to assist you as this spiritual inventory is undertaken. Phone WY 6-3867.

"The churches of Christ save you." (Romans 16:16).

Churches of Christ Circles Feature Xmas Programs

The great significance of the birth and life of the Master, Christ Jesus, will be emphasized at Christmas Science services Sunday.

Scriptural readings will include the account in Matthew of wise men who followed a star to Bethlehem: "And when they were come into the house, they saw the young child with Mary his mother, and fell down, and worshipped him: and when they had opened unto him gifts: gold, and frankincense, and myrrh."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following will be read (p. 315): "Jesus' spiritual origin and understanding enabled him to demonstrate the facts of being — to prove inferentially how spiritual Truth destroys material error, heals sickness, and overcomes death. The divine conception of Jesus pointed to this truth and provided an illustration of creation."

The Lesson-Sermon is entitled "Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?"

Florida-produced sweet corn for market recently totaled $15,000,000 in a single year.

Surprise Xmas Showers Given Johns Family

Members of the First Independent Baptist Church of Chosen met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Kunkel Monday night for the purpose of bagging candy and fruit for Christmas gifts and to prepare food baskets for needy families.

The highlight of the evening was a surprise Christmas shower for Pastor Elder E. L. Johns and family. They received many lovely gifts.

Refreshments were served as the gifts were displayed. Every one then gathered around the piano and sang Christmas Carols.

A pleasant evening of fellowship was enjoyed by all those present.

Student Night At First Baptist

A special Christmas program with students participating will be held at First Baptist Church, Belle Glade Sunday night. Billy Tom Forsee will be the reader. College students will be introduced and Christmas hymn will be sung. The Choir will present "We Three Kings."

Play "Why Christmas?" Church of God Dec. 23

Why Christmas? is the title of the Christmas play Sunday night Dec. 23 at the Church of God. There will also be a gift exchange for everyone. After the service bags of apples candy oranges and tangerines will be given to everyone.

The public is invited to attend. The children of the church will have a special Christmas program Thursday night at the church in charge of Mrs. Eleanor Jones.

Read Luke 21-7
Thanks be unto God for his unspeakable gift. (II Corinthians 9:15).

The shepherds and Magi found Jesus both in the physical sense and in the spiritual sense. They came where Jesus lay and looked upon His face. They devoutly knelt in His presence and worshipped Him.

Today we celebrate the birth of Christ. Unlike the shepherds and Magi, we cannot find Jesus in the physical sense or look upon His face. But He is everywhere on earth; in spirit, the Savior is on each continent, on every island of the sea; in every nation; in our homes, and even among the homeless. He is not far away any of us at any time.

Since Christ is everywhere all the time, it is with expectant confidence that we can seek Him. Our attitude toward Him spells the difference between His coming into our hearts or remaining outside — even on His birthday.

This Christmas Day, let us rejoice with Paul, saying, "Thanks be to God for his unspeakable gift." We need to love Jesus Christ, admit to Him our need of redemption, and have faith in Him as the one who save us.

PRAYER: O God, we thank Thee for Jesus whose birth we this day celebrate. Grant to us an attitude of mind that will open the way for our receiving Him into our hearts. In His name. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
Finding Jesus for ourselves is our responsibility; helping others find Him, our duty.

Russell Q. Chilcote (Tennessee)

"A Saviour Which Is Christ"

By Rev. Luther Key
Giant in the series of a Bible Story leading up to the birth of Christ.

This beloved is the only story of Christmas, the Saviour, not a Saviour, so again I say to you today, that today is born unto you a Saviour which is Christ the Lord. But I must ask you again, to you, who is Christ? to you that sit here or you that listen by your radio, who is Christ to you? Is he another means of joyful frivolity during this season of the year, or is he truly your Saviour?

I think of no more appropriate thing than this thought as we think about Christmas and all its happiness, with all of its joy, with all of its beauty. I think that we can see reflected in the little children that are so happy as they open their Christmas gifts, the wonderful love of this Christ, of this Christ I do not have that pleasure this year but I know that in your homes and in the homes of multitudes of Americans, European and Asiatics, and all over the world, that the love of God is seen so clearly in the cherub face of the infant that lay in its manger, in the toddler that came out in its little sleepers to grasp eagerly its Christmas present under the glowing Christmas tree.

I heard this morning of a little boy, he's just a young tyke, but he decided he didn't want to wait until mom and dad awakened at the usual hour, so he cleverly takes the alarm clock and puts it under his pillow and sets it for 4 a. m. It was, you can rest assured, that the family got up. Of course Dad and Mom no doubt at that moment would have liked to spank him and put him back to bed but they did not when they saw the love in that child's eyes as he looked at the glowing tree and its presents expressing love to him. I saw something more than that as I look into the faces of the little ones and especially into the face of the child of Jesus of the manger. I see the Love of God reflected as only it was once again reflected — namely when he died yonder on the cross of Calvary. Whom do you say that Christ is? Whom do you say that I am? Let's go back if you will please to those who were closest associated with him.

Some of them said, "Why you say that you are friends of the Jews?" and then they said that you are Elijah, and then more sternly he asked the question, "Whom do you say I am?" And then one of them, possibly the most uncouth, the most unlearned of the group, Simon Peter, said "Thou art Christ, the son of the living God; thou art the Christ, the son of the living God."

Oh, my friends, he may be to us anything and many things, but unless he is to us the Christ of the living God, we have failed miserably in catching the spirit of Christ that is interwoven and interlocked in every thing about Christmas in spite of all the commercialism and paganism that we have surrounding us.

You say, like Peter of old, thou art the Christ, the Son of the Living God. That was Peter's rock like confession that said to him in essence: "Thou art my God; Saviour of my soul; Christ, Son of the Living God."

Christ, Yes, he is all that; the divine one, the holy one, the pure one, upon whom we can place every sin that doth destroy. We will confess him and accept him as Christ in Christmas as a new and different meaning. Christ, the child of Bethlehem, the Saviour of the world, dying that all might live. Would you say with him of old, with me today, "Thou art Christ, the Son of the Living God." Don't let it be just Jesus of Nazareth but may it be to you and everyone of you, Christ the son of the living God, who is the Saviour.

Baptist Juniors Present Annual Xmas Program

The Christmas Story in Scripture and Song was beautifully presented Sunday, afternoon, Dec. 16th, at 3:30 p. m. at the First Baptist Church. Using the Second Chapter of Luke, the Juniors gave their entire scripture story from memory, as well as the Christmas Carols, with Mrs. Chas. Burkett at the piano and Mr. Bill Ferguson leading the singing.

The worship area was beautifully decorated by Mrs. Billy Ray Evans for the Junior Department. A tableau with manager scene was added to the program this year with Junior boys and a girl depicting the parts of Mary, Joseph, the three shepherds, and the three wise men. The costuming was outstanding.

Following the program the group adjourned to Junior Department I which had been decorated by the entire staff of teachers and workers. A hand-crocheted cloth draped the serving table, and Christmas punch was served from the crystal bowl. Home decorated Christmas cookies furnished by the Juniors were served to their parents and friends. Lighted tapers added to the festivity of the scene. Candy, in the shape of a shepherd's crook, made in Israel was given each child.

Approximately 150 attended this annual program and open house.

National Co-op Council Jan. Guests Of Florida Chapter At Fontainebleau

The Florida Council of Farmer Cooperatives will be host to the 34th annual meeting of the National Council of Farmer Cooperatives, to be held next month at Miami Beach, Fla. The meeting is scheduled for January 7-9, 1963, at the Hotel Fontainebleau, and is the first time this important conference has been held in Florida.

The National Council, of which the Florida Council is a member, is a nationwide organization of farmers' cooperative business associations engaged in marketing agricultural commodities or purchasing farm production supplies, or both. The Council represents some 5,700 farmer cooperatives in this country and Puerto Rico, which serve an estimated 2,750,000 farmer memberships. Mr. A. H. Hines, President of the Florida Council of Farmer Cooperatives, has been designated as its official voting delegate and Mr. L. A. Thomas of Winter Haven, its Executive Secretary, will be the alternate delegate.

Mr. Thomas said that the theme of the meeting will be "Adjusting to Agriculture's New Environment," and both the general sessions and special conferences will be centered on this theme. Secretary of Agriculture Freeman is scheduled to speak at a luncheon on Tuesday, January 8th, and Mr. Loren Soth, Editor of the editorial page of the Des Moines, Iowa Register and Tribune, will speak at the opening general session on Monday, January 7th. Mr. Soth's subject will be "Agriculture's Political Posture."

The opening luncheon meeting on Monday, will be presided over by Mr. Marvin Walker, Vice-President, and will feature an address by Mr. Hines, A. Gordon, President, and an Annual Report by Mr. Homer L. Brinkley, Executive Vice-President of the Council.

"Due to the importance of the tax treatment of farmer cooperatives, Council officers and members of the executive committee for 1963 will be named at a meeting of the newly-elected board of directors, immediately following adjournment of the delegates' meeting."

atives and their patrons provided in the Revenue Act of 1962," he said, "the general assembly on Tuesday, January 8, will be devoted to discussion of this subject."

Special conferences on particular phases of farmer cooperative operations are set for Monday and Tuesday afternoons and Wednesday morning. The Esso Education Foundation, since its founding in 1955, will have made grants totaling in excess of $13,000,000.

Two Florida colleges, both privately controlled, will share in the nationwide grant. They are Florida Southern College and the University of Miami.

Esso Educational Foundation Helps Colleges And Students In Florida

Grants in aid to education totaling $1,798,500 for the 1962-63 academic year were announced today (December 12) by M. J. Rathbone, chairman of the Esso Education Foundation.

Mr. Rathbone, president of Standard Oil Company (New Jersey), pointed out that with the current program, the Esso Education Foundation, since its founding in 1955, will have made grants totaling in excess of $13,000,000.

Two Florida colleges, both privately controlled, will share in the nationwide grant. They are Florida Southern College and the University of Miami.

Another Foundation-supported experiment was made at Stevens Institute of Technology last summer. This was a four-week college entrance workshop which enrolled high school graduates, the majority of whom had been turned down for entrance to Stevens. As a result, almost 80 percent of those originally felt to be unqualified for entrance to Stevens were later admitted.

In the past eight years, the Foundation has made grants to 437 institutions of higher learning in the District of Columbia and 43 and 44 states where eligible institutions exist.

After a short business meeting, when reports were heard, baskets were filled to be given needy families with food stuffs brought by members. A social hour was enjoyed and the business assisted by Mrs. Kathleen Rogers served delicious refreshments of "Swedish Delight" — an unusual and satisfying dessert and coffee. Gifts were exchanged and a group had many good laughs over some of the funny articles.

After the country November purchases were off about $37 million, or 8.6 percent; the even-month figure shows a decline of 5.1 percent.

Martin and Okeechobee counties were also up with 20 and 28.8 percent respectively. The year's total rise for them is 11.7 and 33.6 percent respectively.

How To Grow Poinsettias Fla. Ag Extension

This year poinsettias are eagerly as up-town merchants. Both are showing holiday color early.

A true gardener would never substitute lights for plants. So, if your garden is without a display of Yuletide color resolve now to get a 1963 project underway.

Purchasing potted stock from a garden center is the easiest way to establish plantings of the holiday ornaments. However, some green thumb operators scavenge the neighborhood for hardwood cuttings when fellow gardeners prune their poinsettias following the flowering season.

Each pruned material can be rooted. First, punch a 1-inch diameter hole about 8 inches deep into moist earth, then insert the woody cutting into the hole and press the soil firmly around the base. Be sure to keep the soil moist until the cutting is well established.

There are a number of poinsettias to choose from. If you desire red-bracted varieties, propagate such plants as fireball, Indianapolis Red, Albert Ecke, Oak leaf or Mrs. Paul Ecke. You can enjoy color combinations if you mingle the red plantings with Ecke white or a pink variety.

Poinsettias will grow on a wide range of soils, including sand, muck, marl, rocky soil and clay. In spite of the wide adaptability, the plants will present you a better show of color if you take proper care of them.

Fertilizer application is important. An application of 1 and one-half pounds of a 8-8-8 fertilizer per 100 square feet of plant space earlier in the fall should now be producing large colorful bracts. The plants will need repeat applications of plant food in early spring, again in June, and perhaps during mid-summer if there are heavy rains.

For best results, prune poinsettias back in late winter or early spring after blooming is over or after the danger of frost has passed. Cut them back to within 12 to 18 inches of the ground unless they have been frozen back below this point. Then cut them back to "live" wood.

You'll find that a compact plant will furnish more color than a plant with few unbranched stalks. To promote a riot of colored bracts, prune the plants several times during the growing season. Cut the new growth back after it is 12 inches long, leaving four leaves on each shoot. Be sure to stop the pruning in early September, because the "flowering" buds are set in early October.

Poinsettias show their color according to the day length and temperature. A plant near a lighted window or a street light often refuses to color up like a neighboring plant in a nearby darker corner. Deary skies in September and early October will shorten the days, causing plants to set buds and flower before the holiday season.

You'll find that temperature is a limiting factor for a good show of flowers. If the night temperatures are much above 70 degrees, bud forming will be retarded. Freak periods of hot weather during this critical time may not permit buds to form at all. The best flower development is when the night temperatures range from 60 to 62 degrees.

Poinsettias can be used as cut flowers if the stems are treated to coagulate the milky sap and reduce wilting. As soon as the flowers are cut, immerse the cut ends in hot water for about a minute, then place them in cold water. Be sure that the steaming water does not damage the bracts.

An alternate method of halting the oozing sap is to singe the cut ends of the stem over a flame for a couple of seconds and then place the stems in cold water. For best results and longer lasting beauty, cut the poinsettias about 18 inches long. They are to be used in flower arrangements. Store the cut flowers in a cool, dark place during the winter stage.

"You should take precaution in public, too. You are responsible for yourself in your own home but in public you must depend, to some extent, on the personnel of the place at which you're dining. However, you can be sure that your hands are clean; and you should be as sure as observation will permit that your eating place and its personnel are clean."

There have been 685 cases of food poisoning this year, 181 last year. There also have been 498 cases of salmonellosis this year, 473 last year. Salmonella bacteria can come from the intestinal tract of humans and some poultry and swine. The illness is similar to food poisoning. Thorough hand-washing and thorough cooking of the meat help prevent infection.

Social Security Number Needed By Xmas Workers

If you plan to work during the Christmas season you will need a social security number. Mr. R. C. Gehrken, Jr., Social Security District Manager in West Palm Beach, said today.

Work for any business firm as a sales person, cashier, or other job is covered by social security, and employers must have a social security number for each employee to report these wages.

Gehrken said that although the total wages paid may not seem significant now, eventually they accumulate and will be used in figuring the total amount of monthly social security benefit payments.

Women who have had social security numbers in the past and who have married and changed their names should report their new name to their social security office. Social security records should show this name change, but the same number originally issued will be used.

When an employee is hired, he should be sure to show this social security number of his employer. The employer can then report the number accurately on the tax return he uses to report wages paid.

Gehrken invited anyone needing a social security number or information about Social Security to come to his office located at 715 S. Dixie Hwy., West Palm Beach, or phone 635-6461.

Use safety belts! If you don't have them, get them installed; if you have them, use them. Safety belts help prevent serious injuries.

New Districts Engineer For Florida Has Varied War & Peace Experiences

Colonel Harold R. Parfitt is being assigned as District Engineer for the Army Corps of Engineers at Jacksonville, Florida, effective December 15, 1962.

He will succeed Colonel Julian V. Sclough, the Jacksonville District Engineer since August 1960, who is being transferred for a new assignment as the Commanding Officer of the 9th Log. Command at Viet Nam.

Colonel Parfitt came to Jacksonville in August, 1962, as the Deputy District Engineer. He is a native of Pennsylvania and attended school at his hometown of Coalale, Pa., at Sullivan's Prep. School, Washington, D. C. and the State Teachers College, Kutztown, Pa., before entering and graduating at the United States Military Academy, with the class of 1943. His first assignment of coincidence was to Fort Pierce, Florida, in World War II where he spent 2 days with an amphibious group that was leaving for the European Theatre. Participating in the "D" Day landing, he was wounded on Omaha Beach, returned as a casualty to Great Britain but rejoined his unit to participate in the Rhine Crossing. He later served as Executive to the Chief Engineer, Supreme Headquarters Allied Forces in Europe with station at Paris.

Colonel Parfitt served in the Korean War, when he was promoted to lieutenant colonel. Later he served as Engineering Officer for the 2nd Engineer Construction Group, and was in charge of the design of bridges that were constructed in that war-torn country. Subsequently other assignments back in the United States and then a 11-month tour at the Canadian National Defense College, a military school equivalent to the U. S. National War College. Prior to assignment at Jacksonville, Colonel Parfitt was the commanding officer of the Engineer Supply Control Office at St. Louis. Married to the former Patricia R. Sclough of Lexington, Kentucky, the Parfitts have two daughters.

'Miracle Baby' with Birth Defects Is Named March of Dimes Child

Jimmy Bogges' mother, Mrs. Shirley Bogges, reads a fairy tale to the 1962 National March of Dimes Boy, a victim of the birth defect known as open spine. She is a March of Dimes volunteer who has helped research "to learn why some children, like my Jimmy, aren't born perfect."

Five-year-old Jimmy Bogges of Cuy, Ark., a "miracle baby" who has survived a constant battle against serious birth defects, has been named the 25th Anniversary March of Dimes Boy for 1962.

Jimmy, the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Bogges, was born with a birth defect known as open spine, or open neural tube. He underwent an operation when he was five days old to correct this condition. A few months later, it appeared that he also had hydrocephalus, or water on the brain. However, this condition has apparently arrested itself without need of surgery. In spite of the fact that he also has defects in both the genito-urinary and digestive systems, Jimmy is a happy, intelligent child who plays with his pets and his toys as eagerly as any other youngster his age. He walks with the aid of steel braces and wooden crutches.

Willie LeFils—The Rams' Unsung Hero!

Willie LeFils, has been Manager of the Rams' football team for two years.

Willie is Treasurer for the Student Body of Belle Glade High, and is active in other student projects outside the classrooms.

Willie's scholastic record allows him the privilege of these extra-curricula activities, and he carries the admiration and well wishes of his teachers; he justifies their confidence and touches their pride when reports are in of results.

Willie assumed many duties of Trainer to the pikin boys; he even contributed to the coaching staff, aside from caring for minor injuries.

Players shoes and other equipment had the benefit of Willie's critical eye and willing hands after every game, and he noted the needs of next year's team to replace worn out items as he stored them for the next season.

The golden-hued helmets, always bright and shiny, were Willie's particular project.

The coaches, the players, the students and the teachers of Belle Glade High appreciate Willie, for they know in every successful endeavor someone "grabs the shovel and digs" while many query the actions and motives of the group.

The Quarterback Club and the public should remember that in the Team Play of the Rams no one contributed more than Willie.

How To Choose Leaves

Some historians say Martin Luther originated the Christmas tree. Others say the Christmas tree began with pagan celebrations.

But wherever the Christmas tree began, today it is a symbol of Christmas spirit. At least two-thirds of all American homes now use Christmas trees.

Many people can't distinguish between the types of trees sold at Christmas time. But, being able to identify these trees and knowing how they differ could help your family to get the kind of tree they will like best. "Different trees have different advantages and disadvantages," explains A. S. Jensen, assistant forester with the Florida Agricultural Extension Service.

For example, although spruces usually have good coloring and stiff branches — important for holding up the family's big ornament collection — they lose their needles quickly. One of these trees — the White Spruce — has a very strong odor, objectionable to some people, while many other spruces have pleasant and Christmasy fragrances.

Firs — particularly the Douglas Fir — will be common as Florida tree stands this year. Their fragrance is good and they have good coloring. Firs hold on to their needles better than spruces, but not as well as pine trees. Fir branches are not as stiff as spruce branches, bending when weighted down with heavy decorations.

Jensen says that the Scotch pine will also be common in Florida markets this year. An oversupply of these trees in the north should bring many to our Florida tree lots. In Florida the pine is generally well accepted although in some areas it is not often used for indoor decoration.

Pines have good fragrance. Some have good coloring, while others do not. Their branches are stiffer than those of fir trees and they retain their needles better than either spruce or fir. Trees other than these are available for Christmas. Floridians who like to chop down their own trees often choose red cedar, but spruces, firs and pines are generally the most common lot-sold trees.

Identifying these trees is not difficult. The spruce has single needles that grow from all sides of its twigs. If you run your hand along the needles of a spruce tree you will find them harsh to the touch.

The needles of a fir tree are single and flattened. When you touch fir needles you will find them quite soft. To identify a pine tree look for clusters of needles, instead of single needles, growing from the twigs. The needles are usually borne in clusters of two to five. Pine needles are usually longer than those of spruce or fir.

In addition to selecting the right tree you will want to know when to purchase it. Jensen points out that on the tree lot most trees don't get enough water and they are often kept under conditions that are less than ideal.

He suggests that you might want to buy your tree early, then set up the proper conditions at home. The tree should be well watered and kept cool. You will probably want to find a shady spot outside your home for the tree.

To help your tree absorb more water you should saw off at least one inch of the trunk bottom. This will get rid of clogged resins that have sealed off the tree trunk. Then put the tree in water.

Another suggestion on keeping the tree green is to add a chemical fertilizer to the water. Add about one teaspoon of fertilizer to a quart of water. "Fireproofing your tree is a smart safety precaution," adds Jensen.

Treat it with ammonium phosphate, either through the trunk or by spraying the entire tree.

You can dissolve the chemical in water at the rate of one pound per one-and-a-half pints of water. Immerse the tree base in the solution. The tree should absorb this material in three or four days.

For faster fireproofing dissolve one pound of ammonium phosphate in water and spray. About a half gallon of this solution will coat an eight-foot tree.

Holiday Dance Of Sorority Marks Gayest Event Of The Yule Season

A gala holiday event Saturday marked the annual Christmas party, held jointly by the two local chapters of Beta Sigma Phi at the Country Club decorated in the yule theme.

The colors of red, white and green carried out the theme of the "Mistletoe Ball" which featured three giant mistletoe rings hanging from the ceiling of the hall.

The elegantly gowned ladies and their handsome swains form ed intriguing shadows as they danced before the crackling fire light from the open fireplace to the music of the orchestra, while the whistling wind whispered this is indeed the "Season to be Jolly!"

The table was lovely and festive with an array of delightful holiday goodies. The enchantment of this soiree will be remembered by all those present as one of the season's outstanding social events.

Boat-A-Cade To 10,000 Islands With Free Guides Jan. 11 Thru 13

A special boat-a-cade into the mangrove islands into Black-Ten Thousand Islands south of here is being scheduled as one of the highlights of the Gulfway Fiesta of the Mangrove Waterway Jan. 11, 12 and 13.

Boatmen from all over the state are being invited to trailer their craft to Naples and join the special boat-a-cade, according to Frank Kerrigan, general chairman of the three-day event being staged to celebrate the deepening of Gordon's Pass to 10 feet.

"There's no charge for the boat-a-cade," Kerrigan announced. "We'll supply the pilots who're completely familiar with the Mangrove Waterway. We feel this will be an interesting trip for those who're unfamiliar with this protected waterway. U. S. C. & G. Chart, No. 1254 will be useful. All boats should carry gas for a 75-mile trip."

The boat-a-cade will leave Naples' Municipal Bay Docks at noon Sunday the 13th and head down the Mangrove Waterway — the inland, Federally-maintained, marked channel — to Goodland on Big Marco Island. From Goodland, the cruise party will cross Gullivan Bay and weave in and out among the

UNCLE DAN from DOODLE says:

Dear Mister Editor:

Zeke Grubb's preacher came by the country store Saturday night, reported that Zeke was going pretty good at his church these days. There, for a spell, he said, the money situation was mighty bad and he figured he'd have to go to the welfare roll if the offerings didn't pick up. He told the fellow he wasn't grumbling, that it was just like Hezekiah Adams said, most of the Church members has been in a bind. Some of 'em has bought new cars, a few has been forced to take fishing trips, and a couple members was even tricked into buying color TV sets.

But, the good Parson announced, him and the Deacons has got it all straightened out now. They had a meeting and decided on a new kind of giving. Seeing as how everybody has gone on the credit card system, the Deacons voted to have some credit cards made up with the Church's name on 'em. Two Sundays ago they give out member a card and folks couldn't wait till preaching was over to use their credit card.

He said they put a little machine in the back of the church and they had the credit cards in and when they pull

BONES OF PLENTY - Hudson. Agricultural conditions of the 1930's are movingly described in this story of a North Dakota wheat growing community. Drought, dust storms, and depression finally drove George Custer from the rented farm he hoped to own. While sympathetically drawn in his farm struggles he is a less sympathetic person in his family relations. Excellent characterization, particularly of Custer's daughter Lucy, makes this a memorable novel.

SEVEN DAYS IN MAY - Schell and Waldo. This is a political suspense novel set in the White House in 1974. President Lyndon has signed a dubious disarmament agreement with Russia. America is upset by domestic troubles and Lyndon's ratings in public polls has reached new low, when Col. Casey, director of the joint chiefs of staff, accidentally discovers that a group of military leaders are plotting to take over the government. What happens makes an intriguing story which will hold reader's attention.

THE LITTLE TOY DOG - White. Here is the fantastic side story of the two heroic RB 47 flyers who were shot down over international waters, imprisoned, and threatened with death by the Russians. Captains John R. McKone and Freeman Olmstead tell their dramatic story to William White, distinguished author of the best selling "Who's Expensive?" This is a fascinating and inspiring story of brave men and the brave women who waited for them at home.

Cold damage has been rather extensive throughout the county with the tender crops being hit the hardest. The harder crops such as celery, escarole, endive, etc. escaped the heavy damage; however, it is hard to say just how much it escaped as it will depend on several factors, namely what the weather will be for the next few weeks. If cool weather continues down, cold weather will be as severe as if the weather turns off hot.

One of the questions asked at the recent Vegetable Growers Meeting at Pahokee was "Should the fertilizer formula be changed during periods of cold weather?" Dr. W. T. Forsee of the Everglades Experiment Station, reported there is no reason to change the phosphorus or potassium amounts in winter months except where a soil test indicates a need for a change. Nitrogen availability changes with moisture levels as well as temperature fluctuations.

Dr. Vic Guzman has been working with a quick nitrogen test for several crops. He has had indications from these tests that there are not too many times when nitrogen applications are needed. Dr. Howard Burdine stated that usually celery responds to nitrogen application during the winter.

Well, you might expect visits from the unwanted little creatures especially with the cold weather we have had in the past few weeks. These little fellows are very interested in staying warm and therefore will try to come in the house or anywhere where they can find food and stay warm. In the house the best control is still the old fashioned spring trap; however, outside there are a number of things that will do a good job. The Fish and Wildlife Service of the U. S. Department of Interior recommends the anti-coagulant type of bait where multi-doses are necessary to kill the mice. The reason being that if a rat or mouse eats just enough to make it sick it will not feel again whereas with such anti-coagulant Warfarin, rats or mice will feed without any after effects and, therefore, continue to feed until they consume enough to kill them.

They make several recommendations as to the type of feeders used. The side of the feeder should not be over one inch high as worms will sometimes miss the bait if they have to climb into the dish. The bait should be kept fresh and free from contamination. This can be done by using a drop type self feeder which enables the mice to feed but not crawl into the feeder. If you are interested in making your own from tin cans call the County Agent's office for instructions.

Instead of feeders small amounts of bait can be placed in small paper bags, stapled or twisted closed. Mice or rats are intrigued by nature and enjoy chewing into the bags to get the bait. The important point about using any type of rat or mouse bait is to keep it before them at all times. If allowed to run out the effect of the bait will also run out and feeding will have to start over and kill will be longer to accomplish.

Tips For Holiday

Meal Planning

Holiday time is a time for feasting for most American families. Every holiday means a special dinner for invited guests.

Christmas dinner may be a traditional one, but many like ideas for something "extra special."

Miss Mary Todd, Home Demonstration Agent says the first important guide is to use a basic meal plan. A skeleton plan would be a first course of soup or fruit juice served in the living room or at the table; main course (heavy) — a protein food, soupy, ham, or roast of beef, accompanied with potatoes, either Irish or sweet, another cooked green or yellow vegetable, and a salad, either vegetable or fruit. Other items that are included would be rolls, butter, relishes, pickles and preserves. The beverage can be served with this course or the dessert. The last course is the dessert. It should be light after a heavy meal.

No menu is successful unless the food is properly cooked and seasoned. Proper planning and management can make the food preparation easier and results better. Another factor to consider in meals for the holidays is attractive service. Meals could be buffet style or family style.

When you are making the menu for your holiday entertaining, Miss Todd suggests you choose foods that will be well liked, but also some that can be prepared ahead and placed in the refrigerator or freezer. This will save much last-minute effort, and the homemaker will be less weary.

Florida's Silver Springs is located in a sub-tropical landscape, and is a bird sanctuary where wild life is found and protected in its natural surroundings.
